

13th International
Anti-Corruption Conference
IACC

Global Transparency:
fighting corruption for a sustainable future.
Athens, Greece | 30 October - 2 November 2008

13th International Anti-Corruption Conference (IACC):
"Global Transparency: Fighting corruption for a sustainable future"
30 October – 2 November 2008

Join us for the 13th International Anti-Corruption Conference, from 30 October to 2 November 2008 in Athens, Greece. More than a thousand experts and activists from over 100 countries are expected to meet in Athens to discuss how countering corruption and enhancing good governance contributes to sustainable development.

In recognition of the role and responsibilities of the private sector in supporting the anti-corruption agenda, several IACC workshops and a special session will engage participants on topics related to implementing effective corporate anti-corruption programmes; extending good anti-bribery practice to supply chains; raising the credibility of anti-corruption efforts; and risk mitigation strategies that contribute to corporate sustainability.

Special Session:

31 Oct. 5:00 - 7:00 pm

- Confronting Corruption for a Sustainable Future: Is the Private Sector Ready?

Workshops on Corporate Anti-corruption Practices:

30 Oct. 5:30 – 7:30 pm:

- Closing the Credibility Gap – External Assurance of Anti-Bribery Programmes

31 Oct.

- 11:00 – 1:00 pm: Countering Bribery in the Supply Chain - The Missing Link?
- 2:00 – 4:00 pm: Combating Corruption through "Collective Action"

1 Nov. 11:00 – 1:00 pm:

- Good Practices to Implement Corporate Anti-Corruption Policies

Why should you attend the IACC?

Benefit from the most up-to-date knowledge on corruption issues: the agenda has been developed with input from and in cooperation with world experts and leading organisations across all sectors. Experts will present the latest knowledge on transparency and sustainability and the ways in which business can contribute to fighting corruption for a sustainable future.

Learn about the latest advances in corporate approaches to countering corruption:

a wide range of workshops focus on how the private sector can tackle corruption – from sector specific initiatives to third party assurance. All workshops have been designed in an interactive format to allow for maximum discussion and input from the audience.

Network with leaders and experts from around the world: A relaxed environment stimulates productive networking opportunities with high-level representatives from governments, international organisations, civil society and businesses who understand and appreciate the challenges and issues around corruption prevention.

Supporting Partners: DOWJONES

Organiser:

TRANSPARENCY
INTERNATIONAL
the global coalition against corruption

United Nations Global Compact

13th International
Anti-Corruption Conference
IACC

Global Transparency:
fighting corruption for a sustainable future.
Athens, Greece | 30 October - 2 November 2008

Agenda Outline

Plenary Sessions

30 Oct. 14:00 – 15:00	Conference Opening
30 Oct. 15:00 – 16:30	Plenary 1 - Peace and Security
31 Oct. 9:00 – 10:30	Plenary 2: Corruption in Natural Resources and the Energy Sector
1 Nov. 9:00 – 10:30	Plenary 3: Climate Change and Corruption
2 Nov. 9:00 – 10:30	Plenary 4: Sustainable Globalisation
2 Nov. 13:30 – 15:00	Final plenary: The Road ahead – Global transparency for a sustainable future

Confirmed speakers:

Confirmed plenary speakers:

H.E. Kostas Karamanlis, the Prime Minister of Greece; Ellen Johnson Sirleaf, President of Liberia; Siim Kallas, Vice-President of the European Commission; Ngozi N. Okonjo-Iweala, Managing Director, World Bank; Mary Robinson, former President of Ireland and former UN High Commissioner for Human Rights; Peter Eigen, Founder, Transparency International and Chair, Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI); Irene Khan, Secretary General of Amnesty International

Confirmed private sector workshop panellists:

Mark Snyderman, Chief Ethics and Compliance Officer, The Coca Cola Company; Stephen Lussier, Executive Director, De Beers; Martyn Jones, Partner, Deloitte; Jean-Pierre Mean, Managing Director, Ethic Intelligence Suisse; Katherine Choo, Senior Counsel, General Electric Company; Hans Christoph Hirt, Associate Director, Hermes Equity Ownership Services; David Bagley, Head of Group Compliance, HSBC; Susan M. Ringler, Senior Counsel for International Compliance, ITT Corporation; Michael Ward, Director of Global Compliance and Ethics, McKesson Corporation; David Jansen, Partner, PricewaterhouseCoopers; Glen Ware, Managing Director, PricewaterhouseCoopers; Eija Pitkaenen, Vice President of Sustainability Communications and CSR, Stora Enso; Dominique Lamoureux, Vice President Ethics & Corporate Responsibility, Thales International

Additional Workshops:

30 Oct. 5:30 – 7:30 pm

- Global Standards in Political Finance: Transparency and Accountability

31 Oct. 11:00 – 1:00 pm

- Transparency in the Extractive Industries - Making the Case for a Global Standard
- Tackling Corruption in the Defence and Security Sector

31 Oct. 2:00 – 4:00 pm

- Corruption in Energy Services: finding a focus to fight back

1 Nov. 11:00 – 1:00 pm

- The Private Sector's role in Fighting Corruption in the Wood Supply Chain: an example from Russia
- Corruption & Carbon Trading Projects: is carbon finance helping to combat detrimental climate change?
- Breaking down the links between banking and corruption

1 Nov. 2:00 – 4:00 pm

- Preventing Corruption in Construction Projects: increased transparency and accountability

For more information and registration: www.13iacc.org, info@13iacc.org

Supporting Partners: DOWJONES

United Nations Global Compact

Organiser:

TRANSPARENCY
INTERNATIONAL
the global coalition against corruption